

Colorado

Office of Economic Development and International
Trade

Bill Ritter, Jr., Governor
Don Marostica, Director

As Director of the Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade (OEDIT) I am pleased to welcome you to the great Rocky Mountain State and invite you to consider investing in Colorado.

The Colorado Regional Center is pathway which you as a foreign investor can take to the EB-5 Immigrant Investor Program. Under the EB-5 Regional Center Program, you can invest in a qualified project and receive green cards for you, your spouse and your dependent children. This entitles you and your family to residency in the United States.

OEDIT is committed to supporting the extraordinary opportunities for economic development provided by the EB-5 Immigrant Investor program. My staff and I stand willing and able to assist any time and in any way that we can.

Colorado is second to none in all the 50 states in creatively and aggressively pursuing opportunities for economic development. We are committed to working with all businesses, everything from large multinational corporations to small start-up businesses. Regardless of the business size, product or service, we are committed to creating the jobs and opportunities that will provide growth and prosperity for all.

It's clear that the EB-5 program is critical to that commitment and we are confident that the resulting investments will be mutually beneficial.

We look forward to having you visit Colorado, invest in Colorado and share in Colorado's splendid scenery, its lifestyle, its creative and innovative approach, and most of all, become a part of our state's bright and shining future. We're confident that once you meet and collaborate with the people of Colorado you'll be here to stay.

---

Don Marostica, Director, Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade